NEW SATELLITE EXPLORER II MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING

REDS SHOOT DOWN U. S. JET PLANE

OSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist batteries shot down an American Sabre Jet near the Korean truce line today and the pilot reportedly parachuted just over the Communist side of the line. The North Koreans at the time were releasing two American pilots and 24 passengers from a South Korean airliner hijacked 18 days ago.

The first brief Air Force announcement on the jet fighter did not say whether the pilot who bailed out was seen to hit the ground safely.

A second F86 accompanying the downed Sabre returned to its base. The pilot reported he saw the lead aircraft get hit and crash, and saw a parachute floating toward the ground just over the Communist side of the line.

The two Sabres were on a low-level simulated ground support mission about 65 miles northeast of Seoul. Under standing orders they are forbidden to fly over the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized zone that stretches across the peninsula separating North from South Korea.

The Air Force withheld the names of both pilots and began an investigation.

Planes from the crashed Sabre's base at Osan, where Americans first battled the Communists in the Korean War, searched the southern fringes of the zone from aloft but failed to spot the lost flier.

The 26 returnees, who included a West German businessman, his wife and 22 South Koreans, were turned over at the Panmunjom truce headquarters after Allied representatives gave the Communists receipts for them.

Bakery Workers Claim They Have "Cleaned House"

CINCINNATI (AP)—The scandal-torn Bakery Workers Union says it has cleaned house in a special congress here after handing a modest vote of confidence to its most controversial figure—President James G. Cross.

The union delegates shut down the convention yesterday after directing officers to seek ways to comply with rulings by the AFL-CIO—which kicked out the Bakers several months ago on charges of corrupt leadership.

But the convention attached a proviso saying that any peace agreement with the AFL-CIO must be in accord with the Bakery Workers' Union constitution.

Cross was unopposed when re-elected last Tuesday—although a number of delegates made a silent protest by not voting.

PA PITTSBURGH (AP)—Louis Rosenberg, Pittsburgh safety director ordered police to wipe out the numbers racket in the city at a four-hour meeting with top police officials yesterday.

Attorney For Senecas Files Brief in U. S. District Court

AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON (AP)—Money paid for lands taken for dam construction purposes cannot adequately compensate the Seneca Indians, counsel Edward E. O'Neill maintains.

"The dollar cannot compensate in this case," O'Neill said in a brief filed with U.S. District Court here.

O'Neill is seeking an injunction for the Indians in their fight to halt construction of a 101-million-dollar flood control dam at Kinzua, Pa.

The Senecas' objection to the huge project is that it would inundate a large portion of their reservation along the Allegheny River across the New York State border.

Noting that the reservation lands are tax exempt, O'Neill said, "in this land of federal, state, county and city taxation, the reservation lands cannot be replaced."

Reports Persist That the Final Stage of Launching Rocket Had Failed To Fire

CAPE CANAVERAL, FLA., (AP)—Moonwatch teams geared themselves today for a sky search for the Army's newly launched and mysteriously missing satellite Explorer II.

At the same time the conviction grew that the six-inch metal cylinder, 80 inches long and weighing about 32 pounds, never achieved an orbit.

There were persistent reports that signals from the Jupiter-C launching rocket convinced some Army missile experts, within the first hour after yesterday's firing at 1:28 p. m., that the final stage of the four-stage vehicle had failed to fire.

Officials of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency and of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built the high speed upper stages, were unavailable for comment. Werner von Braun, German-born head of the Army space program, left for Huntsville, Ala., before reporters could question him about the launching.

Experts said that failure of the final stage to fire on cue would have meant that the satellite, even though it was at orbital altitude of 200 or more miles, would achieve a velocity of only about three miles a second as against the five miles a second needed to maintain an orbit—10,800 miles an hour instead of 18,000.

The cylinder would have traveled less than halfway around the world before tumbling down through the atmosphere.

In Washington last night Dr. Richard Porter, chairman of the Earth satellite panel of the U. S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year, told newsmen there was "some indication that the satellite is not functioning normally."

Porter said there had been indications from the Minutrack radio tracking station here and at one other point that the fourth stage did not function.

"There is other information, however, that it probably did and that the difficulty is more probably in the radio transmission equipment," Porter added. At Pasadena, Calif., Dr. William Pickering, head of JPL, (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Snow, Rain Dominate The Weather Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Rain, snow and cloudy skies dominated the nation's weather today. Only a few areas appeared out of the path of the extensive precipitation belt.

Light snow fell in most of the Great Lakes region during the night. To the south, rain hit areas to the Gulf Coast, and westward through Texas and New Mexico.

Rainfall was light in most places, except near the coast. More than 2 inches fell in a six-hour period at Apalachicola, Fla., and nearly 2 inches at Pensacola.

Earlier, thunderstorms erupted from Texas to Northwest Florida, with downpours in some areas. Strong winds lashed parts of east Texas and Louisiana. A small tornado struck the Lufkin, Tex., area. No injuries were reported.

Technical Report on Fate of the Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) Army sources said today that if the final satellite stage of Explorer II failed to fire properly and no orbit was achieved, the missile's speed would have been insufficient to cause it to burn up from atmospheric friction on the descent. They said it might break apart from the stresses of such a fall, however, and return to earth in shattered pieces.

Priest Leaves Bulk of Estate To Government

The late Msgr. Michael J. Macken of St. Clara's Roman Catholic Church in Clarendon has left the bulk of his estate to the government.

In the will, Msgr. Macken stated his intentions were that the "United States of America" should receive the majority of his estate "in grateful acknowledgment of the opportunity to prosper both spiritually and materially which this great country has afforded me and the members of my religion and nationality."

The monsignor's estate has been estimated in excess of $25,000. Several other bequests ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 were left to various relatives, housekeeper and parish members.

Msgr. Macken died in his Clarendon home Feb. 9, 1958, after a lengthy illness. He also had served as priest at St. Anthony's parish in Sheffield.

He had come to this country from Ireland with vivid recollections of famine periods when a youth in his native land.

Msgr. Macken's will was dated April 8, 1957.

Says House Will Not Investigate Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said today a House committee will not invite testimony from senators whose names have come into an inquiry into alleged backstage maneuvering over a Miami TV license contest.

"We're not going to ask them to come over here and if I were the senators I wouldn't come voluntarily," Rayburn told newsmen.

Rayburn said the senators whose names have been mentioned during the House hearings have a forum of their own in which to testify if they wish.

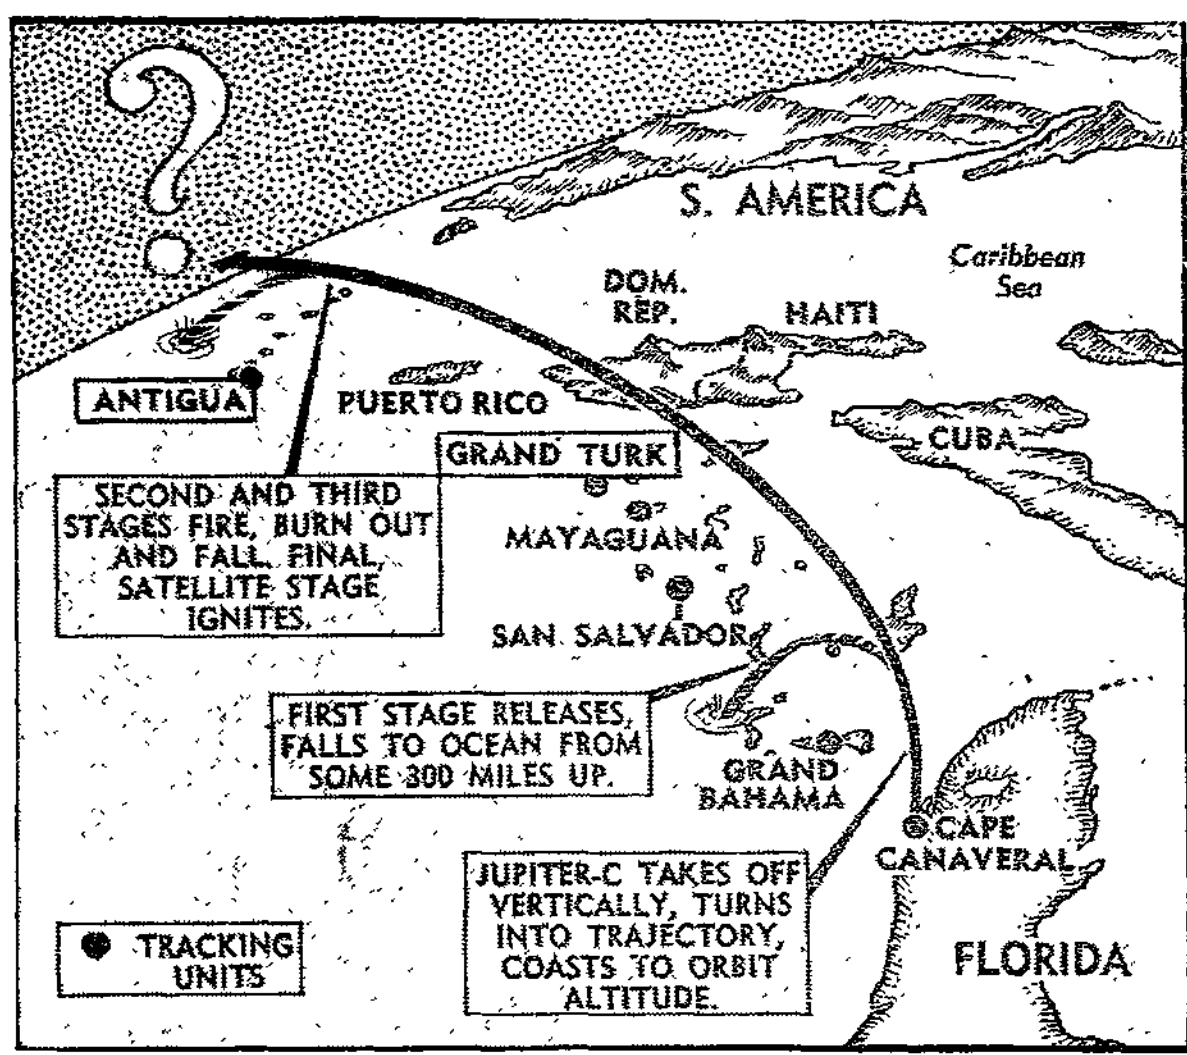

Rayburn's pronouncement, as head of the House, squelched whatever possibility there may have been that the House committee would invite testimony from Sens. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) and Sen. Smithers (D-Fla.).

These three senators have figured in testimony about a four-way contest for Miami's TV Channel 10.

WETZEL TRIAL SANFORD, N.C.—Impassive Frank Wetzel was to watch the state send new witnesses to the stand today in its effort to convict him of murdering highway patrolman J. T. Brown.

Solicitor W. Jack Hooks, seeking the death penalty, began building his case yesterday after more than 2½ days spent in seating a jury in Lee County Superior Court.

Jupiter Launch Is Successful

Newsmap shows launching trajectory of the Jupiter-C missile which threw Explorer II into space to be America's second earth satellite. The launching was as efficient as the Explorer I venture and within minutes signals from the man-made moon were picked up by tracking stations at Grand Turk Island and Antigua, downrange from the Cape Canaveral launching site. But, hours later, no further signals had been picked up and the success of Explorer II remained in doubt. (N.A. Newsmap)

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—While scientists were still trying to figure out whether Explorer II was in orbit—or in bits—somebody asked about Explorer III.

The question was put to director William Pickering of the Cal-tech Jet Propulsion Laboratory yesterday after he broke the news that Explorer II apparently was not in orbit and may have tumbled from the heavens.

Dr. Pickering, whose staff built the last three stages of Explorer

Cattaraugus County Board Doubts Kinzua Dam Really Meant "for Flood Control"

Little Valley, N. Y. (AP)—The Cattaraugus County Board of supervisors says it doubts that the proposed dam on the Allegheny River at Kinzua, Pa., is really meant for flood control.

The board created a 7-man special committee last night to tour the site for an on-the-spot study.

In the resolution creating the committee, the board said "if the true facts were known to Congress, it is doubtful the dam would be constructed."

Individual supervisors said the main support for the dam came from Pennsylvania communities seeking pollution control along the river.

They said industries in these communities dump toxic residues into the river and were seeking a steady flow of water to carry it away.

In its resolution, the board said the dam would destroy the river's beauty and work a hardship on hundreds of Seneca Indian residents.

The Senecas have already undertaken legal steps to block construction of the 100 million dollar project. They contend the dam would flood 9,000 of their reservation's 21,000 acres and displace 750 Indians.

They claim the Pickering Treaty of 1794 gives them permanent use of the land and that specific congressional legislation is necessary to override the treaty.

Last year congress appropriated $10 million for the dam.

Second Department Store to Quit Business PITTSBURGH (AP)—A second Pittsburgh department store has gone out of business in less than a month.

Spear & Co. yesterday announced sale of its Pittsburgh stores, warehouses, merchandise and business to Hahn Furniture Stores. The price was not disclosed.

Spear said its stores in downtown Pittsburgh and the East Liberty section will be closed in a few days. Hahn, which operates five stores in Pittsburgh, said the merchandise will be sold at a public sale at a date to be announced.

Boggs & Buhl, another large Pittsburgh retail store, went out of business recently.

Cursing Charged in Racke Hearing Room

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lynman C. Conger, counsel to the Kohler Co., told the Senate Rackets Committee today he had been cursed in his hearing room by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers Union.

Conger's angry protest set off a round of heated shouting.

At one point Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) threatened the UAW attorney, Joseph L. Rauh, with expulsion from the hearing room. McClellan told all concerned he would seek contempt of Congress prosecution if he finds anyone threatened Conger or other witnesses.

G.O.P. STANDARD-BEARER OFFICER IN SHEFFIELD INDUSTRY 25 YEARS AGO

A former Warren county business man was nominated as candidate for governor on the Republican ticket when the special G. O. P. steering committee at Harrisburg Wednesday recommended the name of Arthur T. McGonigle, of Reading, to be the running mate of Rep. Hugh Scott, Philadelphia, at the Primary election next May 10th.

It was back in the early thirties that Mr. McGonigle was a partner in an industry located at Sheffield called the Sheffield Toys, Inc., which was doing business in 1934 in a building where the Quality Cash Store is now located in Center street.

Mr. McGonigle was vice president of the company and other officers were: F. Arthur Johnson, president, and George B. McDowell, secretary and treasurer.

Older residents recall that Mr. McGonigle resided in Kane at the time that he was engaged in business at Sheffield, and other well known residents of the hill top city had money invested in the company. During the time that the plant was active Mr. McGonigle spent most of his time in Sheffield.

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG (AP)—Arthur T. McGonigle, the Republican organization's "new face" for the 1958 gubernatorial campaign, described himself as "in a fighting mood" today.

The 51-year-old Reading pretzel manufacturer, state GOP finance chairman, was endorsed yesterday by a 23-member steering committee set up to screen a list of 13 prospective gubernatorial prospects and to recommend the man to carry the organization label into the May 20 primary fight.

The committee also recommended U.S. Rep. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, former national GOP chairman, be slated as the U.S. Senate candidate.

The recommendations are subject to the approval of the full Republican State Committee at a meeting to be set later.

The choice of McGonigle opened the possibility of a four-way fight for the GOP gubernatorial nomination. Other announced candidates are William S. Livengood Jr., Somerset, former secretary of internal affairs; Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, Lancaster, former lieutenant governor, and Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's former disarmament aide.

Strickler withheld immediate comment on McGonigle's selection.

Livengood said the endorsement of McGonigle did not alter his plans "one jot."

Stassen said he would announce his own slate in the next few days.

The former Minnesota governor, who now claims the Philadelphia area as home, said he had anticipated the endorsement of McGonigle and Scott.

Stassen and Livengood were the only announced candidates for the nomination prior to yesterday. Although Livengood was among the 13 names considered, the party leaders had refused to include Stassen on the list.

State Chairman George I. Bloom said the endorsement of McGonigle and Scott was "by a very substantial vote of the committee."

He refused to say what, if any, opposition was encountered to McGonigle, who had the personal endorsement of the state chairman.

Break Threatens Between Tunisian Chief and Egypt

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba threatened today to break diplomatic relations with Egypt over an alleged Cairo-based plot to assassinate Bourguiba.

Bourguiba said in a broadcast to his nation that he had informed Egyptian President Nasser unless an explanation was forthcoming, "We no longer have any need of diplomatic relations with Egypt."

The pro-Western Tunisian government, in charging the plot yesterday, claimed it was headed by the exiled Tunisian extremist leader, Salah ben Youssef, who is sheltered in Cairo by Nasser's government.

Ben Youssef replied that the charge was fabricated to divert Tunisian public opinion from pressing Bourguiba into joining the new United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

Furman Statement Presages Democratic Primary Battle

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—A full-blown Democratic party fight for governor appeared only one step from certainty today with a positive challenge hurled by Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman against organization-backed David L. Lawrence.

Furman turned aside latest efforts to get him out of the race, but that possibility will remain until March 24—the final date to withdraw as a candidate for the May 20 primary.

The 62-member Democratic Policy Committee endorsed Lawrence for governor yesterday. It followed through on the same action in behalf of Gov. Leader for U. S. Senator, Compton Pleas.

Judge John Morgan Davis, Philadelphia, for lieutenant governor and Miss Genevieve Blatt for a second term as Secretary of Internal Affairs.

But Furman described the policy committee meeting as a "rubber stamp convention." Although he appeared there, Furman refused to present his name and said he would carry his candidacy directly to the voters.

He said the responsibility for any primary fight rests with Democratic slatemakers.

"I do not believe any individual or small group of individuals should rule the Democratic party by imperial rescript or attempt to dictate in this particular instance the thinking of the Democratic Policy Committee," Furman said.

The 56-year-old Wayneburg contractor was the object of two days of importuning by Democratic leaders to withdraw his candidacy. Lawrence and Furman conferred privately but nothing happened.

"There's nothing they can offer me to get out," he told newsmen. "I have a responsibility to my friends who are supporting me."

Asked if Lawrence offered him a cabinet post or some other consideration, Furman replied no.

"What could he offer me?" he asked rhetorically.

Both Lawrence and Leader pledged fighting campaigns in their speeches before the policy committee yesterday.

"Yes, Alvin got a job in the Times-Mirror Want Ads today—he's a ski instructor!"

Many Fine Trout Streams in Allegheny Forest Reclaimed

During the summer of 1957 the following trout streams in the Allegheny National Forest and the Northwest Region were chemically reclaimed as part of a joint experimental study conducted by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Pennsylvania Fish Commission: Chappel Fork (McKean county), Farnsworth Creek (Warren county), Six Mile Run (Warren county), Little Sandy Creek (Venango county), Lackawanna Creek (Mercer county), Silver Creek (Butler county), and Conneaut Creek (Crawford county). In addition the following streams were treated as part of two lake reclamations: I. e., Chapman Dam and Twin Lakes: West Branch of Tionesta Creek and Wildcat Run above Chapman Dam, and Hoffman Run.

Excepting Conneaut Creek, which will be experimentally managed for brown trout, the remaining nine streams are to be managed for brook trout on the same basis. Chemically, physically and biologically, these streams are suited for the brook trout species, but few, if any, of this species could be found in these streams except in the extreme headwater areas. In all cases the existing trout populations were brown trout. A biological survey conducted on 43 streams in this area during this past summer uncovered similar conditions on all suitable trout waters. Brown trout are considered responsible for the absence of brook trout in the main stream areas, through the inability of the brook trout to compete successfully with the brown for food and space. Also, exterme harvest of the more easily caught brook trout by sportsmen probably led to their eventual replacement by the more wary brown trout species.

Fingerling brook trout were restocked in all of the reclaimed streams, excepting Conneaut creek which received a stock of fingerling brown trout. Evaluation of these stockings was made during November of 1957. Survival and growth of the fingerling fish was found to be good in all streams but Farnsworth branch. In this case an oil pollution, during the height of the drought, resulted in practically complete mortality of the fingerling brook trout. Population checks to be conducted during the spring will give indications as to the winter mortality on trout in a reclaimed situation as well as growth rates for the fish. It is expected that a minority of these fish will have reached legal size by opening day of trout season, but accelerated growth during the spring months will place more and more of these fish in the desirable size category throughout the trout season. Spring stockings of legal fish will be made to provide early season fishing on all reclaimed streams, however, the bulk of the fishing provided from these streams should be what are now "native brook trout."

Memorial Court Tribute to The Late William S. Clark

(Editor's note: Following is the second of three statements prepared for the permanent records of Warren County Court honoring recently deceased members of Warren Bar Association. They were entered into the record Wednesday afternoon during Memorial Court.)

William Stuart Clark, long a member of this Bar, was born March 21, 1879 in Warren Borough and died after a lingering illness in Warren General Hospital on May 11, 1957. He was the son of John and Eliza McMullen Clark. After attending the public schools in Warren and graduating from its high school in 1897, he entered Dickinson Law School at Carlisle from which he graduated in 1901 with a LL.B. degree.

Admitted to the Warren County Bar in 1902, he served two three-year terms as District Attorney of Warren County, after which he engaged in private practice until 1908 when he joined the firm of Hinchley & Alexander. After Mr. Hinchley's elevation to the bench in 1910, the firm continued for many years as Alexander & Clark and in recent years as younger men became associated with the partnership, the firm name of Alexander, Clark, Mervine & Calderwood was taken.

Mr. Clark was a member of the Pennsylvania Supreme and Superior Courts and the United States District Courts, as well as our local Courts and was also a member of the American and Pennsylvania Bar Associations.

Having been a continuous resident of Warren down to the day of his death and interested in the civic, social and business life of our community, it was but natural that he took an active part in its affairs. From a teenage boy, he had been an active member of the First Methodist Church and along in the 20's taught a large Sunday school class of young married couples, and in later years served on the Church Board of Trustees. For a number of years he was a Warren Borough School Director and acted as a member of the Board during the time when many of our local schools were built. He was a former member of Kiwanis and the Secretary of the local Chapter of the Red Cross for a number of years shortly before his death. He was a member of the Conewango Club and of the local Social Science Club and also served two terms on the Chamber of Commerce Board. He had been a Director of the Warren National Bank for the past thirty-seven years and in 1947, following the death of Edward W. Johnson, he was elected President of the bank serving until January 1, 1949 and was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the bank at the time of his decease. To all of which fraternal, civic and business institutions, he gave his help, experience and wise counsel.

As a lawyer, he held to the highest ethics of his profession and although well trained, he never relaxed in his constant and continuing study of the law, and in his review of the continuing changes of the law by statute or otherwise which confronted him as a practitioner. His client could never hurry a decision from him, if there was a shadow of doubt or uncertainty in his mind; the answers came only after he had made careful and thorough examination of all the law and decisions he could find touching the problem in question. Kindly, courteous, interested and helpful to all who sought his advice or counsel, he was indeed an outstanding credit to his profession. Until illness prevented in the last year or so of his life, he had been an active member of this Bar Association, had served as President of same, and during the years of his membership had cheerfully served on numerous committees. Those of us who served with him on the committee to revise and reformulate the Common Pleas Rules of Practice for Warren and Forest Counties (of which committee he was chairman) will always remember the time and effort and cooperation he devoted to this important and difficult subject, and most of us will remember the painstaking manner in which he explained each and every rule and the reason therefor, giving each member present at the Bar meeting an opportunity of expressing his approval or disapproval of any rule submitted by his committee. For this particular work alone, the Association owes him its well deserved commendation.

Yes, William Stuart Clark was a country lawyer, but in his passing he left behind a host of friends who will remember this man as one who in his lifetime had aided, helped and cheered them in times of difficulty and doubt.

Respectfully submitted,

Scout Camping Committee Announces Season's Dates

Camp Olmsted will be open from June 29 to August 2, according to information released at the meeting of the camping committee at the Boy Scout Office Wednesday night. Campers will be accepted for the weeks beginning July 6, July 13, and July 20. An additional week, July 27 will be opened up for campers if all the others are filled.

Rates have been set at $15.00 per week for units camping under their own leadership, with a two week rate of $29.00. The camp committee studied provisional camping, and determined that it cost $30.00 per week to provide a provisional leader. After discussion, it was decided to set the provisional camping rate at $17.00 per week.

A camp budget was set up half of the camp operating expense will come from campers' fees. The balance will come from council appropriations, gifts, etc.

Dick Bauer, Field Executive was approved as camp director. Mr. Bauer submitted the names of the following persons who have signed on as camp staff for 1958: Assistant director, Paul Shogren; Cook, Beulah Olsson, Program Director, Lee Thompson; Waterfront Aides, Bill Elmhurst, and Jim Wick; Dining Hall Stewart, Dick Elmhurst; Kitchen Aides, Bob Kellerman, Bob Lander, Ed Grosch, and Jerry Shephard; Program Aides, Bill Lombard and Tom Fadale; First Aid, Gary Hunter; Trading Post, Gary Borton, Handicraft, Jim Huselton; and Utility Man, Tom Curtin. Positions which are being filled include: Assistant cook, Nature Director, and Provisional Leader. All of these require special qualifications. There is still an opening for an Aquatic Director, who must be 21 years of age, and successfully pass a course of instruction at the National Camping School. The council will send a successful applicant to school.

The camp committee commended Mr. Bauer and his staff for the excellence of the camp in 1957, and expressed themselves as well pleased with the very high percentage of returning staff men.

An attendance of 225 different paying campers is expected for the season, with a total number of boy weeks approaching 400 anticipated.

Es Koebley is chairman of Camping and Duane Wilder is Camp Olmsted Chairman.

Tribute Is Paid Deceased Bar Association Member

High praise was accorded three deceased members of Warren Bar Association Wednesday afternoon at a Memorial Court presided over by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr.

The late William Glassman, William S. Clark and Sidney D. Blackman had "spread upon" the permanent records of the court a fitting tribute to their professional accomplishments and distinctive legal types.

Attorneys Warren M. Stone, J. H. Alexander and Harold M. Hampson read into the record brief statements of the respective histories of Messrs. Glassman, Clark and Blackman. Relatives dotted the court room and Warren Bar Association members were also present. (The statements will be printed in later editions.)

Speaking extemporaneously of the three departed Bar Association members were Lawyer E. H. Beshlin (who had known them for the longest period), Lawyer John H. Stewart (who had been helped by their experience and wisdom as a fledgling attorney) and Judge Flick (who sketched them as to legal type). Mr. Glassman, said Judge Flick, was the versatile lawyer whose grasp of such legal minutiae as copy right and trademark clauses combined with his court room excellence in criminal cases and corporation matter. Mr. Glassman's abilities as a domestic relations expert were also cited.

Attorney Will Clark, continued the judge, was the legal counselor whose immense command of respect and downright integrity did much to enhance the reputation of the local Bar Association through the years. And finally, commented Judge Flick, it was Attorney Blackman who was the "epitome of the good country lawyer." Mr. Blackman was innately skeptical of the expert and the specialist, the judge said, and believed he could best him if he thought about the case long enough.

It was Attorney Stewart who mentioned that Blackman was perhaps the hardest working of the local attorneys and who came closest to the fanciful conception of the ideal lawyer who must "live like a hermit and work like a horse."

In concluding the session, Judge Flick noted it was the profession that had dominated his first Bar Association function at Earl MacDonald's camp. "And though this may be a sad occasion," said the judge, "it is a reminder of the heritage they have left behind and the mark for which we all can strive."

Lawyers present at the session besides those mentioned above were: Samuel F. Bonavita, C. Henry Nicholson, Donald S. Mervine, W. Scott Calderwood, Richard Leuthold, Sidney W. Blackman, William Hill, David Swanson, James Frantz, Joseph Goldstein, M. A. Kornreich, and Marion Carriger and James Cable of Tionesta.

BOYLE'S COMMENT

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U)—The boss is the boss again.

The downturn in jobs has made this forgotten figurehead of business a person of importance once more.

It always happens that way. When there are more jobs than people, nobody pays much attention to the boss. He tiptoes around the place talking to himself—for fear that if he says something out loud he'll hurt somebody's feelings, and the guy'll quit and go to work for a competitor.

But when there are more people than jobs—such as right now—the boss again becomes industry's "father image." The problem of the wise worker then becomes one of how to please his paycheck pappy.

So it is time to revive again a forgotten American art—the art of apple polishing.

Your older hired hands, who've survived bad times before, know how to do this instinctively, just as an old boxer never quite forgets his footwork or how to protect himself in the clinches. It's the young employees, who've never known a recession, who are likely through pure ignorance to get gored by a rampant boss now.

So here are a few tips on how to butter up a boss:

office who used to sneak out to play golf at 2 p. m. but now goes around picking paper clips off the floor to cut down expenses, look no farther.

2. Keep your feet off your desk while he is in view. If he speaks to you, rise to your feet and address him as "sir," a polite term used in ancient times to one's superiors. It is not necessary, however, to salute him—not unless times get really bad.

3. Maintain a serious mien at all times except if the boss tells a joke. In this case laugh first and longest—but don't overdo it. It isn't wise to let the boss know how scared you really are.

4. Never interrupt his old joke to tell a new one of your own. The boss no longer wants you to be amusing on company time. The only reason he is telling you a joke is to keep his own spirits up.

5. When going to the water cooler, stride up quickly and self-confidently—as if you had really earned the right to a drink—gulp a fast one, and return to your desk. Do not linger around the water cooler to ambush the giggling stenographers. Those days are over—for the duration.

6. Around noon go into the boss's office, ask him if you can borrow some salt and pepper, then explain, "A little personal thrift doesn't hurt anyone, chief. I'm bringing my lunch to the office now."

WORKS THIS WAY—Waldemar Capelle, right, police chief of Kohler Village, Wis., shows Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee a tear gas gun during hearings in Washington. Capelle testified that members of his force, which was increased from four to 49 when the United Auto Workers organized the Kohler Company in 1952, have been trained to use guns on the company's range. He said that most of the policemen worked for the company.

7. Be more helpful in small ways. If you know your boss and his wife are going out for the evening, ask him if you and your wife can't baby-sit for them—for fun. This, of course, is downright toadysm, but it will please your wife to visit the boss's home—and see that his wife is an even looser housekeeper than she is.

8. Finally, if you are really worried about losing your job, tell your boss, "I want you to be the first to congratulate me, chief. My uncle just died and left me $100,000." For some reason every boss hates to fire an employee who has more money than he does. Anybody who follows these simple rules will weather practically any office economy drive and probably be the first to get a raise next Wednesday.

when the boom resumes. That is, if the boss doesn't lose his own job. There's always that possibility—and it means a terrible waste of butter, too.

TEACHING SHOULD BE EXCITING

We hardly need opinion surveys to establish that we in this country generally have a low opinion of the teaching profession, says Bruce Biosat in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror. The salaries we pay teachers, he opines, speak eloquently of our attitude. Then he continues:

But samplings of opinion do reinforce this sad fact. Not only average citizens but community leaders seem to put teaching near the bottom of the career scale.

The general view is that teaching not only fails to bring financial reward and security and respect and recognition, but it is not even more than moderately interesting work.

In the present circumstance, there can be no quarrel with these judgments as they relate to fame, prestige and monetary reward. The tragic thing here is that a vicious circle is involved. These appraisals are true because Americans have made them true.

In other lands, teachers stand at or near the top in public esteem and generally are far better compensated than ours. Teaching is seen as honorable work lending at least a touch of distinction to those who practice it.

The hardest judgment to digest, however, is that teaching isn't very interesting. It should be—and can be—tremendously exciting. Whenever and wherever it is not, there is something radically wrong.

In the first place, teaching is charged with heavy and challenging responsibility. The task is one of helping to shape and mold the plastic minds of the young, to show them how to think and to master knowledge.

To tell that story, to help equip young people to deal with their world, the teacher must perforce learn how to think himself and master a lot of the accumulated knowledge of life. These masteries alone should place him on the scale in prestige and reward.

Teaching above all is a dedication to the discovery and the spread of truth. If there is any more honorable enterprise on earth than this, what can it be?

EASTER SEAL SALE REMINDER

Freedom of giving is a basic part of the democratic American way of life. We create, maintain and support our own charities. We help the organizations and the people we think need a lift. It is voluntary agencies that have brought our nation's health and welfare services to the forefront.

Proof that this freedom has its characteristic benefits is the growth and success of the Easter Seal Society which is charged with the responsibility of rehabilitation of crippled children in Warren County. To maintain this vital humanitarian program and to extend its services to the increasing numbers of crippled children resulting from a growing population is a tremendous and expensive responsibility.

Therefore, in the same voluntary way which has marked its successful fund-raising program in the past, the National Society, of which Warren County Crippled Children's Committee is an affiliate, is carrying its direct appeal to the American public again this year.

You have probably already received an appeal letter and a sheet of gaily colored Easter Seals which represent the messengers of hope to the crippled. Won't you, in your own way, respond to this appeal and send your check for crippled children today? Send your contribution to "Crippled Children, Box 238, Warren, Pa."

Daily Lenten Devotions

from The Upper Room

Read Galatians 6:1-10.

Be not deceived. God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap. (Galatians 6:7).

Is there for sin a penalty? God's forgiveness does not cover? Is there for sin a consequence? God does not separate from us?

A mother warned her child not to climb trees, lest he be punished. Ignoring the command, he climbed a tree. A limb broke and he fell. The result? A broken arm. Through painful sobs, he begged his mother to forgive him. Gladly his mother forgave him and did not punish him. But she could not mend the broken arm. He had to bear the consequence of his disobedience.

God applies to us the same law of consequence for sin. When, with a penitent heart, we seek God's forgiveness, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins. But there is still the natural consequence of sin for which we have no deliverance in this life. It behooves us to consider the cost of sin! A ruined life for a few moments of sin is a tremendous price to pay!

PRAYER

Our Father, enable me to sow seeds that will not bring to me a harvest of regret, anguish, and sorrow. Teach me to sow seeds of love and mercy, so that I may reap an abundant harvest to the honor and glory of Thy name; through Christ, the Saviour of the world. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Different Views of How Bad It Is

Here and There

Fifty years ago this week an historic event, which took place in the local YMCA which probably marked an important step in moving pictures, radio and finally television, was described in an item in the Evening Mirror as follows: "The Ammat's-cope exhibition tonight at the Young Men's Christian Association building is worthy of more than passing note. The entertainment company, and the instrument used is the very latest perfected animated picture machine. The great American wizard has invented many remarkable contrivances, but nothing more astonishing than this machine, by which actual scenes are reproduced upon the screen with all the vividness of life. Nothing is left to the imagination. Men and women are seen hurrying to and from on the busy street, fire engines crowded thoroughfares, the Black Diamond Express train, moving at the tremendous rate of sixty miles an hour is reproduced upon the canvas, and all these and many other scenes are presented with their usual accompaniments of noises, etc. The roar of the express train is distinctly heard even before the train comes into the view of the audience. The rattle and bustle of the busy street is heard. Beautiful music by great bands and orchestras, such as Sousa and Thomas is given and altogether the entertainment is one of great delight. The price for admission is 35 cents; special price for school pupils, 25 cents; both including reserved seats."

Many in the Warren area are planning to attend the big Rotary Club show in Jamestown. As a benefit for the Jamestown General Hospital Snack Bar a huge cavalcade of stars will appear at the Merion P. Cowlin Auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 25. When the curtain goes up promptly at 8:15—the entire orchestra of Johnny Long will be on hand. Long, a tops recording star, has hit the million-record mark several times with his arrangements of "White Star of Sigma Nu"—"Shanty in Old Shanty Town"—"Blue Skies" and "Silver Dollar." He is currently the number one band on television and will appear on the Big Record this Wednesday evening. Known as "Young America's Favorite," Long is a gifted left-handed violinist. Shining the spotlight with the maestro will be the former Arthur Godfrey discovery, Julius La Rosa. Julie is a Cadence recording artist and is best known as an ever-popular entertainer. Debbie Brown, a beautiful blonde singing sensation is described as really on the way up. She has a distinctive style with a ballad or novelty song. The Virginians, one of Ed Sullivan's all time favorite novelty acts, will arrive direct from the Radio City Music Hall stage. New York nightclub comedian Danny Crystal is master of ceremonies. For further information, contact Pete Pepke, Warren Bank and T. Co.

ANOTHER MEOW

A beautiful male, tiger kitten, answering to the name of "Pete," is looking for a new home. Pete is affectionate, housebroken, and would make some family a wonderful pet. His present owner is forced through circumstances to part with him. Pete's phone number is 2439-J.

See U.S.S.R. Surpassing U.S. In Hydro-Electric Power

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Soviet Russia's hydro-electric power production now approaches and will soon surpass that of the United States.

Individual power plants in Russia and Siberia are far bigger than the largest installations in America. Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia, largest U.S. installation, has a capacity of 1.9 million kilowatts.

The new U.S.-Canadian Niagara power plant on the St. Lawrence will have a total capacity of 2.2 million kw.

But the U.S.S.R. has 10 plants ranging from 2 to 6 million kw. One is almost complete, three more are under construction, six more are in advanced planning stage.

The 6 million kw. of the Yenesei River plant will be larger than the 5.25 million kw. capacity of all power plants at all dams built by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in its history.

Five Siberian plants will have a combined capacity 50 per cent greater than all U.S. dams built by the Army, Bureau of Reclamation and Tennessee River Valley Authority put together.

This amazing picture of Russian power development comes from no less an authority than Maj. Gen. Emerson C. Itchenko, Chief of U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. It is based on Russian reports put together by Army intelligence. It is fully supported by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) who visited Russia last year and was allowed to make movies of many installations.

TESTIMONY BY Senator Ellender and General Itchenko before Senate Interior and Public Works committees have given Washington a rude awakening on what was going on in Khrushchev's declared war to pass the United States in peaceful production.

Only two new U.S. multiple-purpose water resources projects have been authorized during the Eisenhower administration. One is Bureau of Reclamation's Colorado River development. The other is the St. Lawrence Seaway being built with Canada.

Since building materials are scarce, particularly concrete, the Russians go in for earth and rock-filled dams.

Most Russian rivers flow through flat country, so they have few canyons or high dams. But they have four notable dams from seven to 12 miles long. Fort Peck, longest in United States, is four miles. Only one Russian dam failure has been reported.

TOTAL RUSSIAN hydro-electric power capacity is put at 25.9 million kw., but this does not include 44 power plants whose size is unknown. Total U.S. hydro-electric capacity is 27.6 million kw. This is about 16 per cent of all U.S. electric power. Russian coal is of such inferior quality that more emphasis is put on hydro-electric power development than in this country.

The Russians are building a national transmission grid. Some of its lines carry 400 kilovolts 500 to 600 miles. These are far heavier loads over greater distances than any U.S. lines.

Russia is dispersing its power plants, developing whole new economic areas, says General Itchenko. This breaks up big industrial concentrations and scatters strategic bombing targets.

Nearly all Russian water resource developments are multi-purpose, for power, irrigation and navigation. They are financed by bond issues, says General Itchenko.

RUSSIA'S INLAND waterways rival America's, though their traffic is less. Two Russian canals linking the Baltic and White seas, the Caspian and Black seas, permit inland construction and passage of submarines and destroyers to the ocean. Planned waterways will connect the Caspian and Black seas with the Baltic and White seas.

EASTER SEALS—A pretty little girl, looking forward to discarding her crutches in favor of roller skates, features one of two designs for the 1958 Easter Seals. The seals—messengers of hope for crippled children—will be mailed to more than 38 million American homes when the month long Easter Seal appeal gets under way on March 6. The seals are in bright Easter color tones of rose and blue.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW (AP News Analyst)

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an A-B-C on the agreement between President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon for the latter to act as president if Eisenhower becomes too disabled to carry out his duties.

Because, as Eisenhower said, the two men have faith in each other, Nixon will decide whether Eisenhower — if unable to speak for himself — is too disabled to act as president. Then Nixon will act for him. The word "act" in all this is important.

Nixon won't take the oath of office as president. He will not become president. He will turn the job back to Eisenhower if the latter recovers. Eisenhower, not Nixon, will decide whether the President's disability has ended.

The two men have made it clear this agreement is meant to apply to them only, not to future presidents and vice presidents. Why was the agreement made at all? For several reasons.

The Constitution is vague on just how a vice president takes over from a disabled president. It doesn't, for instance, say who decides on the President's disability. It doesn't say who decides when a president is no longer disabled.

It simply says that in case of presidential disability the vice president will take over the presidential duties and powers and "act" for the President until he recovers or a new president is elected.

It doesn't say the vice president shall become president or that he must take the presidential oath. Is the agreement constitutional? Some — including House Speaker Rayburn, Texas Democrat — disagree.

Rayburn argues that a vice president who attempts to carry out the presidential duties must take the oath of office as president and, once he has done so, the elected but ailing President is out of office.

But Atty. Gen. Rogers considers the agreement constitutional. He argues against the need for the vice president to take the oath of the presidency or that when he does the old President is finished.

He says the Eisenhower-Nixon agreement is in keeping with constitutional language.

It simply says Nixon will act for Eisenhower and, without requiring a presidential oath from the vice president, it says Eisenhower will resume the presidential duties when he's able.

Eisenhower has made clear the reason for the agreement: his worry that in a moment of national crisis he might be disabled and there'd be confusion and disagreement over how Nixon would take over the duties required of the head of government.

This agreement will also save Nixon embarrassment. Because it's all laid down in writing, he can take over from a disabled Eisenhower without fear of being called a usurper. Without such a public agreement, he might hesitate.

First Methodist WSCS Will Aid Many Causes

President Marjorie Branch was in charge of the monthly meeting of First Methodist WSCS, held in Dunham Parlors of the church.

Following routine reports two recommendations of the executive board were approved. That the WSCS contribute $200, to the following $20, to the Jaycee Youth Ambassador Fund, $30 to Eugene Erickson for his European trip this summer, $50, to the Methodist Youth Exchange Student Program; and $100, to Miss Evelyn Curtis, the church's director of religious education for a summer European trip 2. That the unit contribute toward the WSCS fifth assembly to be held in St. Louis in May, by taking an offering at each of the circles during March.

Mrs. Branch reported the visitation program to community nursing homes has been reinstated by the Warren Council of Church Women and First Church WSCS had charge during February. Participating in the program were Mrs. Mabel Loree, Mrs. Mabel Granquist, Mrs. Geneva Glass, Mrs. Laura Harper, Mrs. Doris Betts, Mrs. Erma Fritz, Mrs. Adele Trantier and Miss Ada Coo.

Mrs. Beatrice Donovan reported April 29 is the date set for the annual mother-daughter banquet of the church and urged that all reserve that date. Mrs. Ione Niederlander invited the WSCS to Allen Class Guest Night in Dunham Parlors at 8:00 p. m. this Thursday.

The Mature Parent

Mother Understands Child's Problems, But Not Her Own

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

AS Lillian turned and twisted herself about before the skirt department's mirror, her mother said, "The red pleated one is much prettier, dear. That skirt is too tight across the hips. If those sheath-type things don't fit you perfectly..."

With calculated rudeness, Lillian said, "Who asked you for an opinion, Mother?"

In the painful moment that followed, her mother thought confusedly, "Lillian snaps at me like this because she is insecure. All teenagers are insecure. She is furious at me because I reminded her that she is too fat to wear tight skirts."

That was an accurate diagnosis of the feeling behind Lillian's rude, rebuffing words.

DID her mother's knowledge cool the flush on her face? Did it loosen the sense of tightness in her chest? Did it restore her calm? Did it tell her what to say to Lillian?

No. It did none of these desirable things. But what it did do was most undesirable. Analysis of Lillian's rudeness simply enabled her mother to avoid all uncomfortable awareness of her own helplessness response to it.

Like many other parents today Lillian's mother is always trying to "understand" her daughter's behavior. By analyzing it, she achieves a feeling of scientific detached superiority to the girl's insolence. It is a phony feeling hiding from her her real one of hurt and resentment.

AS all children are sometimes rude to us, we all share the feeling with Lillian's mother. And we sooner or later hate to recover from it so that we can say to Lillian, "Oh, my dear. Act on your own opinion—and let's see what happens."

Avoiding ourselves by analyzing the other fellow is a well-known escape device in group psychotherapy.

I recently heard psychiatrist Dr. Alexander Wolf discuss it before the American Group Psychotherapy Association. Speaking of the special problem presented by patients who are always ready to diagnose the other fellow's troubles, he said, "To get well such patients must be helped to recognize their own feelings of inadequacy."

Knowledge of why children resent us is only made alive by our direct experience with our own resentments.

Troop Camp Committee Organizing for Season

A reorganization meeting of the Established Troop Camp committee of Warren-Forest Council Girl Scouts was held in the Jefferson Room of Warren Public Library. While most of the members are new on the camp committee this year, they are not new in Scouting.

Over-all camp chairman is Miss Nelson Johnson, Warren, and working with her is Mrs. Robert Stewart, North Warren, as chairman of the Established Camp. Mrs. Gordon Kay, Youngsville, will serve the group as secretary, and publicity will be handled by Mrs. David Rice.

Camp folders, which will be distributed to Scouts before camping season starts, will be revised by a committee composed of Mrs. James Seuss, North Warren; Mrs. Loyal Buggs, Russell, and Mrs. Ernest Blair, Barnes.

Responsible for getting the camp in readiness for the season by organizing work bees are Miss A. J. Weiler and Mrs. Floyd Nollinger. Mrs. Shuul Glass is shopping chairman and Miss Daniel Taggart, of Columbus, will help where needed in crafts. Mrs. Ralph Van Old, as president of Council and last year's camp chairman, was present, as was Miss Ursula Johnson, local Scout executive.

This committee is responsible for the up-keep of the site at Camp Birdsal Edey, and ways of improving it were discussed. It is the hope of the group that more Scout troops will take advantage of any opportunity to use the camp. Fees for use of the buildings and equipment are very low, and the grounds may be used without charge.

Established Camp will be held July 6 to 12, with Troop Camp to be held the two weeks following. Brownie Day Camp will be held in June, with the following committee making the plans: Mrs. Robert Anstadt, chairman, Mrs. Joseph Bunk, Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, Mrs. Robert Lewis, and Mrs. Ralph Sorenson.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Many Americans are trimming their debts today, while others are taking on more.

Many are increasing savings while others are keeping retail sales levels high.

Many are feeling the pinch of falling incomes while others are enjoying income stabilizers built up under personal protection programs.

This mixed picture of personal fortunes and of how individuals are meeting the recession is found in the national statistics when you balance one against the other. The Federal Reserve Board statistics show that Americans took on three billion dollars of installment credit in January. But that is less than they usually take on in that month. Much of the drop was in auto paper—a statistic that Detroit was already sadly aware of.

In that month Americans repaid 3½ billion dollars of consumer credit. But that is less than they usually do in January. This seems to reflect the shrinkage in many individual incomes.

Total consumer debt (both installment and noninstallment) outstanding at the end of January was $10 billion dollars less than at the start of the month. But the total is 44 billion, or nearly three billion dollars more than at the same time in 1957.

Few economists believe this total is dangerous in view of the total assets, income and savings of the American people.

Besides the economic cushions the government has provided to deal with recession, there is a big reserve which the American people have built up on their own. Some, such as Social Security, is government managed but comes out of funds provided by the individual and his employer. The Institute of Life Insurance reports that total payments from private and semipublic programs for the protection of the individual and the family now come to 25½ billion dollars a year. This is nearly 9 per cent of the total personal income after taxes of 300½ billion dollars a year.

The largest single source is benefit payments from life insurance. The Social Security system is second in total benefit payments.

In addition to the 25½ billion dollars payments the institute tabulates, individuals have large reserve pools in other programs not included in that list.

Some of these are interest payments from U.S. Savings Bonds, bank accounts, savings and loan associations. Others get income from real estate and corporate securities.

A drop in payroll totals is always a big blow to the economy. But the luckier individuals have other cushions than those provided by such government-sponsored devices as jobless benefits or relief rolls.

Approximately 30 per cent of the oil wells drilled in the United States are drilled in Texas.

Ruling Coming on Listing Expense Account in Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today it plans an early announcement relating requirements for reporting 1958 expense allowances on tax forms.

Officials stressed that the announcement will be in the form of a tentative ruling. This will give citizens a chance to express their views before it becomes final.

In general the relaxation is expected to eliminate the necessity for reports by many persons who receive small amounts for expenses from their employers and who make accountings to their employers.

But there is no intention it was said, to eliminate the reporting requirement for persons who receive large sums for expense accounts and make no detailed accounting to their employers. These are the people the internal revenue service is most interested in.

An IRS official said it is a good guess that under the relaxation a person who for example receives expense money for such things as cab and street car fares and phone calls, and accounts for the money to his employer, will not have to report it as income and expenses in his tax report.

CHARGES—George F. Baker, president of National Airlines, appears before the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight. He charged that Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack is being "broken, crucified" and disgraced for not yielding to political pressure in his FCC vote.

New Minimum Hourly Wage For Women and Minor Help

HARRISBURG (AP)—A proposal to bring women and minor employees working in department stores, five-and-tens and other retail sales outlets under minimum wage laws for the first time in Pennsylvania history was under study today.

State Secretary of Labor and Industry William L. Batt Jr., announced tentative approval yesterday of minimum hourly wages ranging up to one dollar they would become effective May 26 and affect some 250,000 employees in the industry.

Batt said further public hearings will be held March 20 on the proposal, recommended by a special nine-member study group. The proposal split the group, 6-3, Batt announced, with the three industry representatives turning in a minority report.

"The industry representatives agreed with the representatives of the workers and the public that the minimum was needed," he said, "but they disagreed on zone and time schedule provisions for making it effective."

The proposal divided the state into three categories for the purpose of putting the new standards into effect: Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas in the first category; cities, boroughs and townships in the 10,000 to 500,000 population in the second category and all other areas into the third category.

A one dollar an hour minimum hourly wage would become effective May 26 in the two largest cities. In the middle population range, an 85-cent hourly rate would go into effect on that date. On May 26, 1959, the rate would go up to 95 cents and six months later to one dollar.

In the smallest population category, a 75-cent hourly rate would go into effect May 26, followed by 85 cents in six months, 95 cents at the end of a year and one dollar after 18 months.

Batt said that a survey showed that more than 58 per cent of the women and minors working in retail sales outlets in the state are being paid less than one dollar an hour. He estimated that 95,000 of the 250,000 employees would be entitled to pay increases on May 26 if the rates are adopted after the final public hearing.

Not affected are an estimated 250,000 adult male employees covered by federal minimum wage standards.

Under state law, the labor and industry department is authorized to establish minimum wage scales for industries which are not covered by federal minimum wage regulations.

Batt said a study soon will begin to determine minimum wage scales for women and minor employees of the laundry and dry cleaning industry of the commonwealth.

Several weeks ago the department approved new minimum wage scales for employees in the hotel, motel and restaurant industries. However, the industries have appealed in Dauphin County Court. The minimums are scheduled to become effective in April.

Lamb and Pork Stealing the Spotlight From Beef Items

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lamb and pork steal the spotlight from beef in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this week.

Both meats shaded lower in price in scattered sections with reductions of 2 to 4 cents a pound. This is in line with government forecasts that more lambs and little pigs would be coming to market this spring. Leg of lamb seems to be the most popular cut for that meat and smoked hams are the most numerous pork item.

With the Lenten season in full swing, fish items such as salmon, oyster stew, shrimp and scallops also are getting a play.

The Lenten season also affects egg prices, which are up sharply again this week. Demand always picks up at this time of year and recent extremely cold weather and snows cut down supplies in two ways. Transportation of eggs was delayed and hens laid fewer eggs. This week's advances of 4 to 8 cents a dozen may be repeated next week, trade circles say, but after that prices should drop steadily until hot weather arrives.

Outstanding buys are hard to find in vegetable departments, but good buys are available in carrots, spinach and broccoli. Carrots in bunches and bags are down markedly this week, produce men say. Lettuce and celery are fairly good buys, but somewhat irregular in quality and condition so that careful selection is necessary. Collards, mustard greens, kale and turnip tops are in about the same category. So is cauliflower, which came down in prices a bit.

California asparagus is still on the high side, although supplies are increasing. The recent rise in cabbage prices abated this week.

Apples still head the best buy list in fruits. Supplies of controlled atmosphere apples are increasing, augmenting the now generally ripe apples from all crops. These apples are kept in storage to control respiration and prevents them from becoming ripe. This type apple will be plentiful for the next two months or so, although they're higher in price than other apples because they're in better condition.

JACK FROST SUGAR

For perfect candy apples, dissolve sugar completely before water boils. It's so easy with Jack Frost—every grain dissolves instantly in cold water.

CANDY APPLES-ON-THE-STICK

8 red apples • 3 cups Jack Frost Granulated Sugar
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 1/4 cups water • red food coloring

1. Wash, dry apples. Insert wooden skewers in ends.
2. Combine Jack Frost Granulated Sugar, cream of tartar and water in heavy saucepan or in top part of double boiler. Have syrup deep enough to dip apples into easily.
3. Place over moderate heat stirring until mixture begins to boil.
4. Add enough red coloring for a bright red color. Wipe sides of pan carefully with a damp cloth.
5. Boil, without stirring, until syrup is brittle when tested in cold water, or candy thermometer registers 290°-295°F.
6. Dip apples into syrup, noising by skewer, remove at once and twist to spread syrup evenly.
7. Cool on buttered baking dish.

REMEMBER... sugar is a good natural food and contains only 18 calories per teaspoonful.

Army Program Directed to Aid High Graduates

The Army has come up with a program that has opportunity knocking not once, but more than 150 times, according to M/Sgt. Rocco A. Curcio, local Army recruiting representative.

Directed to the high school senior and recent graduates, Sergeant Curcio said this "reserved for you" program gives qualified applicants the choice of more than one hundred and fifty technical courses before they enlist for the Regular Army.

If all requirements are met and a vacancy exists in one of the desired courses, the young man or woman applying will be signed up for an Army enlistment—with a written guarantee of class enrollment in hand.

The applicant is not obligated to enlist even after he or she has been accepted for the program. The decision to take the technical course is still his to make. If the applicant chooses to enlist, he goes into the Army with a career reservation.

Sergeant Curcio said that there is schooling to lead to specialization in practically every field of interest.

A school catalogue listing all of the hundred and fifty courses, said the Army recruiting sergeant, is available at the local Army recruiting Station located at City Bldg., Kennedy street, Bradford, Penna. I will also be at the Exchange Hotel, Pennsylvania avenue, Warren, Penna., every Tuesday from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m.

The School's Answer to Mathematics Challenge

Beaty School news release schools begin to do more and better work in mathematics.—This is a strong statement and probably very indicative of the college's viewpoint of public education. What is being done in the field of mathematics today? Let's look at the mathematics program at Beaty Junior High School.

Every student is assigned a course in arithmetic or some phase of mathematics one period a day, five periods a week, for the full three years he is enrolled. Eight teachers work in this area. Standards are set and achieved for each of these courses. Homework is assigned and the achievement testing done by the Guidance Department indicates that our students are above the national average. Students who receive a planned homework assignment every day and with the cooperation of home and school the pupils achieve their goals and as a result may attain the honor roll each marking period. Whenever a student neglects the homework assignment it naturally becomes more difficult for him to keep pace with the class.

The ninth grade mathematics curriculum is interesting at Beaty Junior High School. From a total of 380 students over half, or 220 students, chose to take algebra, while the remaining 160 are working with an interesting course in general mathematics. With emphasis today on more and more mathematics and with many students gifted in this area, a new plan is being introduced this year.

Seventy one eighth grade students with special interest and aptitude for mathematics are taking algebra in the eighth grade rather than the regular eighth grade mathematics course. At the end of the first semester the achievements of these students indicate that they are having no difficulty and will continue to work ahead in this accelerated course. Next year as advanced mathematics students they will take plane geometry. This will enable them to be graduated from high school with at least five years of work in algebra and higher mathematics, if they so desire.

Beaty Junior High School is aware of the pressing problem of training as many students as possible in the fields of mathematics. However, this must not well-balanced education for the whole child. We are proud of our students' achievements in mathematics and we feel certain that many of them are not only capable mathematics pupils but good citizens as well.

Reservation Turn-Downs An Indicate of Business Trend in Las Vegas Area

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Business is no good," says the operator of a big hotel on the Las Vegas gambling strip. "Last year we were turning down 500 reservations every weekend. Now we're only turning down 400."

Which helps prove that even with the troublesome recession the country is experiencing there are bright spots. And the encouragement isn't only on the Las Vegas dice tables.

It's reflected in optimism in the long-depressed farm areas.

You also see it in the hopes of builders with spring weather coming and the freeze on building money credit thawing.

You find buoyancy too in the boom towns near missile bases like Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., the government's vast atomic works in New Mexico, and the missile fuel factories in Texas.

It's apparent in many areas across the land which have barely felt the recession and report business as good or better than their top levels of prosperity, or only a little off.

The same search by Associated Press newsmen that turned up the gloomy economic facts of life in the jobless areas of Michigan, Pennsylvania and California also brought glowing accounts of conditions elsewhere.

Take Bob Conroy, 38, one of Detroit's jobless army. He and his wife both lost their jobs in early December. They and their two children are living on hopes, state jobless benefit payments and two basement freezers filled with food.

"We're living," said Conroy. "We'll get along. I think in a few months something ought to happen. I got a deer during the hunting season last fall and froze the carcass. That's helped."

In Florida, where migrant field hands killed by the crop freezers are being fed in soup kitchens, business is booming on the state's west coast. There has been an influx of plant construction workers and "snowbirds," the winter vacationers from the North.

Miami Beach, with temperatures back to the normal 70s, has been bidding hard to recoup some of its lost winter tourist business. A whole trainload of hay balers, 600 of them, was recently sold in eastern Kansas and western Missouri.

A survey of 444 firms by the Chamber of Commerce at Buffalo, N.Y., showed 84 per cent expect business to equal or exceed last year. About a fourth expect to expand employment this year.

There's an almost unanimous view the country isn't headed for a major depression.

In Chicago, Robert C. Tyson, finance chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said two factors alone should prevent any repeat of 1929. Then, he said, we had a highly speculative stock market financed on thin margins with borrowed money. Now, he said, the bulk of stock market holdings are self-financed.

Tyson's second reason. "Home mortgage practice has shifted from lump sum, short maturity loans, to monthly amortized, 20- to 30-year obligations, more like rent. Much of the debt is also guaranteed or insured by the government."

Other businessmen now are paying tribute to the unemployment compensation part of the Social Security system. An eight-billion-dollar insurance pool is being tapped by the nearly five million jobless to make sure they don't starve or go homeless. This keeps them in the market as buyers, to some extent at least.

Also, for those rightly worried about the present shortage of jobs particularly in the nation's factories, there is the encouraging word from many economists that we are really headed for a labor shortage in a few years—that there will be plenty of work—and pay—for all.

Louisiana reports: "Almost everyone is living high on the hog here." Texas reports its bustling Gulf Coast industries are going full blast. South Dakota says its bank deposits topped 300 million for a record.

It's odd, but two of the sectors that worried the economists most last year—farming and construction—now are improving and carrying much of the hopes for pulling the country up again.

The big story in farming is the broken drought in the Midwest.

Nebraska, coming out of a bumper crop year after a series of bad ones, counted a 43 per cent hike in crop dollar values which gave the state's farmers 200 million dollars more to spend.

Construction, a laggard in 1957, is looking up. Various government moves have eased money availability.

Home builders in many areas started clearing sites even before early February shows melted away.

George Yamini, Dallas developer, reported sale of 62 lots in one week for $14,000-up homes. He said it was due to more liberal credit. Tyler, Tex., expects 30 million dollars to be spent this year in expansion, repairs, streets and highways.

Revived defense work is beginning to show up. For example, construction is starting on a new 65 to 100 million dollar missile base at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Threaded through The AP's survey data are strong suggestions of the mobility and fluidity of the labor force. Workers can and do adjust to other jobs—go elsewhere looking for work.

The electrical manufacturing industry generally has been hurt. People more or less ran out of money to buy home appliances, TV sets, etc. But the electronics end of the industry is beginning to pick up again and with renewed defense spending. And withdrawal of small appliances from fair trading by several firms may help sales.

Arkansas, like most Southern states, is working overtime trying to lure in new industries. There have been some spotty layoffs, but Southern states are still on the plus side of the economic ledger.

Living costs still are soaring at record levels. But there's some encouragement here too. Raw material prices have sagged, for such things as rubber, metal, hides, wool, gasoline, fuel oil, and lumber. Government economists predict sooner or later this will drift into the retail level as lower consumer prices.

Man Gets Four Months For Shooting Neighbor

Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr., Tuesday sentenced a man to four months in Forest County Jail for clunking an argument with a gunshot. The jurist presided over Common Pleas Court in Tionesta Tuesday afternoon.

Algie Gately of Redcliffe was ordered to spend four months in jail for shooting a neighbor Dec. 26, after an argument. He will get credit for time already served.

In another matter, Vincent Jones of Armstrong County was ordered to spend 90 days in Warren State Hospital for observation. Jones is implicated in 21 camp burglaries in Forest county.

Four juveniles involved in theft of gasoline from highway equipment had their driving privileges revoked for six months and were ordered to pay $50 fines each, plus costs by June 1. Six month jail sentences were suspended.

A Venango County man has a one to two-year prison sentence suspended when he agreed to make good two worthless checks totaling $300.

American Public Is Blamed for Crisis in Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—The U.S. commissioner for education today blamed the nation's school crisis directly at the door of the American public.

Commissioner Lawrence G. Dertick said the main trouble is that "society has not yet provided the financial resources necessary to establish and maintain the kind and extent of higher education" this country needs.

In a speech prepared for the closing session of the National Conference on Higher Education, Dertick said, "I would like to see us take just one page from the Russian book... the kind and degree of determined effort and support they are investing in their educational system."

When the American public is fully awake to the Soviet challenge, he said, "every schoolhouse at the crossroads and every college campus will be tooled and geared to generate the quality and quantity of manpower needed for a space age."

"It is a shame upon us," he said, that only 9,000 doctorates are awarded each year, although "professional and scientific authorities tell us we have an estimated 300,000 persons in each year-group who have the capabilities to achieve the doctor of philosophy degree."

Of those 9,000 graduate students awarded doctor's degree each year, Dertick said, only 3,500 are available as new college teachers.

Flood Forecasting Service Calms Fears of Residents

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Federal Flood Forecasting Service has been working ESRA hard the past week, but its output has done much to calm the fears of flood-conscious citizens living by Pennsylvania rivers.

ESRA is the nickname given to the service's Electronic Stream Flow Routing Analogue. Its graph production, when interpreted by chief hydrologist I. D. White, charts the flow of the state's rivers and—more importantly—accurately forecasts river stages.

During the past week the attention of residents was captured by the potential flood danger represented in the huge accumulation of snow from winter storms, especially the neat blizzard of Feb. 15-16.

However, the Flood Forecasting

Service—thanks in a large part to ESRA—was able to predict there would be no serious floods anywhere on the state's main streams.

ESRA is a computer designed to solve one problem in flood forecasting. It is 6 feet high, 5 feet wide and 1½ feet deep.

"It is operated on the assumption that the flow of water in a river is similar to the flow of electricity through a circuit," White explained.

Using data collected in floods of the past, the forecast center technicians determine what resistance must be placed on the electric circuits of ESRA to reproduce the crests of past floods.

Experts Discuss Motionless Moon To Hang in Sky

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force has plans for a "motionless moon" that will hang at a certain point in the sky, day and night, oscillating gently.

The experts say it would be wonderful as a radio and television relay station, or for counting cosmic rays or observing weather.

Also as a launching platform in space, for a missile with a thermonuclear warhead.

Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, Air Chief of Materiel, told the Armed Forces Communications Electronic Assn. at Washington that the Air Force is studying a proposal for a satellite that would hover over a fixed point on the earth.

Irvine said the vehicle, 20,000 miles out in space, would be ideal for missile launching.

He said it would be relatively simple to aim a missile from such a fixed point above a target on the earth.

Irvine added that in the absence of atmospheric resistance, only a comparatively small amount of rocket thrust would be needed to start the missile on its way.

Further details were made available by persons at the Air Force missile test center here.

The stationary moon would be hurled to an altitude of 22,000 miles and sent into a circular orbit. Traveling parallel to the Equator at a speed of 8,000 or 9,000 miles an hour, depending upon its latitude, it would complete an orbit around the earth once a day.

But the earth also rotates once a day. The satellite, moving in the same direction, merely would keep pace with the earth.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Seated before the large screen in the television projection studio it seemed that you were at the controls of a B29 again.

Here, in camera closeup, were the instrument panel and the control pedestal. Out through the plexiglass dome you could see Pacific cumulus clouds in the glare of morning sun.

"We started our climb to 20,000 feet at 7:40. At 18,500 feet I set the C-1 automatic pilot up for the last time until after 'bombs away.' I checked with the crew at 20,000 and all stations reported satisfactory. We reached our altitude at 8:30. Nelson received a report that our primary target is the best target. So we will make a bomb run on Hiroshima."

The husky man in the projection studio shifted suddenly at the memory of writing those words in the plane which he now saw on the screen roaring toward Hiroshima and a new era of history.

He saw the bomb falling. Then everything grew dim in a flashing white brilliance. There was a cloud, an enormous and strangely shaped cloud. . . . He remembered whispering to himself, "My God, what have we done?"

The screen of the projection studio darkened suddenly and the lights came on. The man who had been flying that B29 to Hiroshima in memory again, Robert A. Lewis—turned to the man beside him.

"That's exactly the way it was," he said.

Lewis had been viewing for the first time recently declassified top-secret films of the preparations that led up to the dropping of the first atomic bomb Aug. 6, 1945. The television audience will see the same filmed account next Sunday on Twentieth Century (CBS-TV).

Using films and a diary of the mission kept by co-pilot Lewis, Phil Reisman Jr. has written a fine documentary of the historic event.

Lewis and his crew were selected for the job because of his extensive experience with B29s and his outstanding record as a pilot. Col. Paul Tibbets Jr., pilot of the plane, was the squadron commander.

Lewis is a thoroughly domesticated civilian now. He and his wife live in Old Tappan, N.J., with their four sons and one daughter. He commutes to a candy manufacturing firm in New York, where he is personnel director.

"I don't think that my mission to Hiroshima was useless," he said after viewing it on film. "When I was in Japan after the war was over I heard people say it was 'God's wind' that wiped out one city instead of the entire empire. I'll say this I'll say it was God's wind if it proves to be a deterrent to future wars. If it is, and I believe that it is, then the bombing of Hiroshima was worth it."

McClintock Five Nips North Warren, Takes Gra-Y Title

McClintock School won the 1957-58 Gra-Y Basketball Championship last night after coming behind in a thriller to top North Warren 28-26.

The win gave McClintock a record of 15 and 1 for the season, and the final victory ended the playoff between the first and second half winners.

With two minutes left to go, McClintock went ahead for the first time in the game. Jim Johnson, son of Coach Bob Johnson, sank a field goal to put the West Enders ahead after "Tank" Creola tied it up with a foul shot.

Approximately 150 spectators agreed that there were no individual stars in the final league championship fracas, but that every boy played a great game. Johnson and Chase shared scoring honors with 13 apiece.

Much credit was given Coach Johnson and Dan Stummell of McClintock, and Sam Loomis of North Warren for the fine calibre of the play and players. Referees Hammerbeck and Berardi turned in a fine performance.

Hamner Looks Like Cinch to Guard 2nd Base

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Only 15 months ago Granny Hamner was advised by a doctor he would never play baseball again. Today, the veteran Philie infielder is practically a cinch to open the 1958 season at second base.

"Only a miracle would enable you to play again," the doctor said. "It would be an act of God if you could swing a bat properly."

Six months before, Hamner had jammed his left shoulder diving for a ball. He ripped a tendon right next to an old injury — another torn tendon — that still had not fully healed after an operation. More than a year of sheer torture followed.

The victory puts Warren in the position with the Jamestown Cokes Playoff is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, officials announced.

Disastrous Year Ending for the Knickerbockers

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia can close the book on another disastrous campaign for the New York Knickerbockers tonight by defeating the Cincinnati Royals on the Warriors' home court.

A victory for the Warriors would enable them to clinch the third and last playoff position in the eastern division of the National Basketball Assn. and assure the Knicks of a cellar finish for the second straight season.

The Knicks reached the "brink" last night when they lost to the Syracuse Nationals 102-91. Now the best the Knickerbockers can do is tie for third place.

In the night's only other game involving the divisional champions, the Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, the Celts came out on top 109-102.

NOTHING TO IT—Warren Spahn of Milwaukee will be 37 in April, but he won 21 games last season with this smooth, powerful form. And baseball people see no reason why he shouldn't be a big winner again this year. With Spahn every pitch comes out this high-kicking windup, overhead delivery and smooth follow-through. For his career, he's won 224 games.

TRAINING CAMP

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press
Cleveland's Herb Score, who befuddled American League batters with his blinding fastball and cracking curve before suffering a damaging eye injury early last season, is back on the beam and the Indians may have to be reckoned with in this year's pennant race.

In his first appearance under game conditions since being hit in the right eye by a line drive off the bat of the Yankees' Gil McDougald, last May 7, Score struck out six men in a three-inning intrasquad stunt yesterday.

The 24-year-old left-hander fanned four of the first five batters he faced. He weakened a bit after that and gave up a run on two singles and a pair of walks.

"I felt great," Score said later. "Had a little trouble getting my curve over, but my fast ball was good and I was throwing as hard as I could."

If the Indians are to improve on their sixth-place finish of last season Score is the guy who'll have to carry most of the pitching load.

Herb won 16 games in his first big league campaign in 1955 and followed it with a 20-9 performance in 1956. He led the league in strikeouts in both seasons.

Score's apparent recovery tempered the rather gloomy reports that emanated from some of the other major league camps.

Outfielder Irv Noren sustained a possible fractured rib when he crashed into a grandstand wall in a St. Louis Cardinals' pepper game. The veteran was ordered to a hospital.

The teams are tied for the lead with 75 points each. But Heishey has only six games left on its schedule compared to eight for Cleveland.

The Becons created the first place deadlock last night by defeating Heishey 3-1 before 7,607 fans on the losers' ice.

Gordon Veprava paced the winners' attack with two second period goals. George Bouchard netted the other Becons' tally while Bob Solinger deprived Cleveland goaltender Johnny Bower of a shutout.

In the only other game, the Springfield Indians whipped the Buffalo Bisons 8-4.

SUGAR GROVE—Guy Summerson received serious injuries Tuesday at his employment in Falconer when 200 pounds of glass fell on him and broke a vertebrae. He was taken to WCA Hospital in Jamestown.

Brother-in-Law Of Mamie Will Be Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. George Gordon Moore, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Eisenhower, will be given a chance to testify in a House investigation of alleged influence in the grant of a lucrative television license in Miami.

Moore denied that he had anything to do with the Federal Communications Commission's grant of TV Channel 10 to a National Airlines subsidiary headed by G. T. Baker, a friend of his. But Moore wrote Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the investigating subcommittee, that he is willing to repeat his denial under oath.

The subcommittee hearings were in recess until Monday when Thurman A. Whiteside, Florida attorney, is expected back to finish testimony about his role in the Miami case and his financial favors to Richard A. Mack, who resigned under fire as an FCC commissioner earlier this week.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel was in demand as the stock market made further upward progress in quiet trading early today.

The market was riding a four-day winning streak and trying to make it five.

Key issues rose fractionally. Quite a few were unchanged. A few losers appeared.

Motors, copper, chemicals, oils and rails were narrowly ahead. Airlines were easy.

The ability of rails to join the industrial rise was an encouraging technical sign. Further reassurance that the administration plans to fight the recession and news of higher copper prices abroad also helped.

Marie MacDonald Says Hubbie Was Back of Kidnaping

CINCINNATI (AP)—A veteran Los Angeles detective hears today what actress Marie MacDonald calls the real story of her kidnaping more than a year ago.

The 34-year-old actress, here for a night club engagement, called a press conference yesterday and sobbed as she told newsmen her estranged husband Harry Karl was responsible for the kidnaping 13 months ago.

The story enlisted the quick interest of West Coast police. Thad Brown, detective chief at Los Angeles, said: "This is the first time we have heard this story from her."

Detective L.H. Herman Zander, who investigated the kidnaping, was sent by plane, with Julian Blodgett of the Los Angeles prosecuting attorney's office, to question Miss MacDonald today.

Also in Los Angeles, Karl scoffed at the story, which he said is "absurd and ridiculous," and said: "I feel quite sorry for Marie. She needs a great deal of help."

Karl has announced he is infatuated with a redhead and wants a divorce from Miss MacDonald.

Hawaiian Islands Are
Deluged by Downpours

HONOLULU (AP)—Record-breaking rains deluged Hawaii's principal island of Oahu last night and brought floods to some areas.

With no relief in sight before this afternoon, the Weather Bureau recorded 10.68 inches of rain at Honolulu Airport in 16 hours—breaking a four-year record.

Even the 41-year record of 13.52 inches—set at Honolulu's Federal Building in March 1917—was threatened.

An electrical worker was reported washed into a drainage canal but was pulled out safely.

G.O.P.

Bloom, who has described McGonigle as the "new face" type he feels the party needs to win this year, introduced the Reading man's name into the Monday meeting of the State Policy Committee. That meeting broke up after three hours with directions to Bloom to pick the steering committee to draw up recommendations for the organization slate.

The steering committee was in session four hours yesterday before coming out with its recommendation of McGonigle and Scott. Bloom said the group would meet again Saturday to choose candidates for lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs, the other spots on the statewide ballot.

The two others considered for the senatorial nomination, U.S. Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona and T. Newell Wood, Luzerne County commissioner, announced through Bloom that they would step aside for Scott.

Bloom said Van Zandt announced plans to seek reelection to his congressional seat.

A native of McKean County, McGonigle will be seeking his first public elective office.

He is married to the former Cordelia Edris of Lebanon County. They have three children. McGonigle is a member of the Atonement Lutheran Church of Wyomissing.

McGonigle said he telephoned Scott in Washington and told him: "This will be a wonderful experience for us both. I'm in a fighting mood now that I know I'm in the race."

Both he and Scott are expected here for the Saturday meeting.

framed building containing the "corn plant" was almost totally destroyed.

The first alarm rang in at 5:07 a. m. and a general alarm was sounded eight minutes later, bringing most on-duty and off-duty firemen from Jamestown and surrounding areas.

The blaze was believed to have started in some rubbish on the first floor and then spread to a grain chute where the sprinkler system was ineffective.

Wednesday morning shortly after 1 a. m. the Duplex Manufacturing Corporation plant in Sherman, N. Y., was gutted to the roof of a $500,000 blaze.

This morning, however, an official of the parent concern in California, the Pendleton Tool Industries, Inc., said the Sherman plant would probably be rebuilt. This was undoubtedly good news to its 33 employees.

No statement on the loss or future plans is yet available from this morning's blaze. Grandin president is in New England.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

printed $1,000,000 to start work on the project. The administration's budget for the next fiscal year recommends appropriation of another million for the work.

As an alternative to the dam, some engineers have suggested a canal to divert some Allegheny River water into Lake Erie through the Conewango Valley.

Yesterday, the Conewango Valley Flood Control Assn., notified the Cattaraugus board it would oppose such an alternative.

It said this plan would take much rich agricultural land out of production, result in large tax losses, ruin many small businesses and require expensive relocations of roads and railways.

New Message

(From Page One)

The Eisenhower letter suggested that leading Soviet citizens come to the United States and see first hand what this country is like.

Menshikov said in an interview a few days ago that he thought the more high-level visits there were the better. His words indicated possible Bulgarian acceptance of Eisenhower's proposal.

Menshikov called on Dulles shortly before Menshikov was scheduled to speak at the National Press Club in the first appearance there by a Soviet envoy in 17 years.

Menshikov said the Bulgarian reply "deals with the questions" raised in Eisenhower's Feb. 15 letter. He declined to give any other detail.

Meanwhile, it was learned the United States has notified Russia that the Western powers intend to ask for a meeting of the U. N. Disarmament Commission this month.

J. & L. Steel Co. Report for the Year Optimistic

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. said in its annual report to stockholders today "we face the future with a great deal of confidence."

Admiral Ben Moreell, chairman of the board and Avery C. Adams, president, stated: "Inventories of steel in the hands of users and consumers have been liquidated at the rate of approximately one million tons a month for the past seven months. This and other factors lead us to believe that we are approaching a 'bottoming out' period which no one can pinpoint precisely but which we believe to be in the near future."

Moreell and Adams estimated that the steel industry will operate at 50 to 55 per cent of capacity during the first three months of this year.

The company said its 1958 capacity of 7 1/2 million tons is a 14 per cent increase over the firm's capacity in January, 1957. The company said it spent 101 million dollars on new facilities in 1957 and put 173 million dollars worth of new facilities into operation. J. & L. said it will spend about 58 million dollars on new plants and equipment this year and will put 81 million dollars worth of new facilities into operation.

Among the new facilities to be put in operation this year are a second continuous weld pipe mill at Alhquippa; a stainless steel sheet and strip mill at Louisville, Ohio; and a reversing rough mill at the Cleveland hot strip mill. Earlier this year, J. & L. reported a net income of $45,452,000 or $5.65 a share in 1957 compared with $45,122,000 or $5.61 a share in 1956.

GETTING A GOOD LOOK — John Hegemann, seven months, takes a good look through his glasses at a doll almost as big as he is in his Chicago home. His mother, Mrs. Lawrence Hegemann, says John is pretty good about the glasses now, but he raised a fuss when he was fitted for them about a month ago. Every once in a while, she says, he tries to take them off and play with them, but even if he does get them off he's safe—they're shatterproof. John was fitted with glasses because his eyes, crossed at birth, were not straightening out satisfactorily.
